Agitation of this sort always precedes two intion; and it will undoubtedly cause the anti-reform anistoracy of England to doubt if, after all, even the doubt nature of John Bull may not eventually be roused into a passion fearful in its manifestations.

We have little doubt that the whole story of the attempt to blow up the Pat fiament Rouses is a labrication, or, at least, greatly evaggerated; but the shuple flact that such a tale is told, is evidence that it is not considered absunt or entirely improbable. There is a deep undercurrent of feeling among the British masses just now, whose fift it will be interesting and prolitable to watch it may not lead to revolution, but its tendencies are ammistability in that direction. John Bright put the query, "If a public meeting in a public content of the proportion of the strength of the public meeting in a public meeting in a public content of the proportion of the strength of the public meeting in a public content of the public and Russilons. zens of the United States: For the distinguished honor of being called upon to preside over the deliberations of this Convention Laincerely thank you. I could have wished that its responsibilities had follen upon another, but relying upon that courteous and generous couldence which has called me to the Chair, I enter upon its duties with an auxious desire for the success of that great cause in which we are now engaged. Uniong the great events of our day, this Convention, in my opinion, will prove to be one of the greatest; for peace both her victories not less renowned than war, and this Convention is one of her victories-may I not say a crowning vic-tory? For the first time in six years a Nation (Convention representing all the States is now as combled—six long, weary years; as I look back, oh! what an interval it is of blood and agony and tears. During that period we had been ougaged in the most glamtic civil war the world has ever seen, wasting our resources, dienching thousand battle fields in fraternal blood, mic carying to fishernal graves our fathers, our sons and our brothers by hundreds of thousands. But thanks be to Ahalghty God, the war is over. Peace, blessed peace, has enme. The assurance

Oh, my fellow-citizens, if the whole people the United States could see what we now witnees, the North, the South, the East and the West joined to fraternal association as friends and fellow-citizens, one work would be already done. If they chould have seen, as we saw, Massachuseus and South Carolina by their full delegations coming arm in arm into this great Convention; if they could have seen this hody, Mater in numbers and in weight of character and brain, than ever has assembled un this conti-nent moler one roof, incling to team of joy and gratitude to witness this commingling, there could be no struggle at the polls in the coming election. When I remember that it was Massachira its and South Carolina that in the Convenion which framed the Constitution voted against which Bouth Carolina reasserted in 1833, and in Massachusetts poured out the first blood in the struggle, and when I call to mind all these memories and at the same time ask the people of this country to look in on this Convention and see hese two old States of the Union coming here n fraternal embrace, approaching the common altur of a common country, ready to make common sacrifica for the good of the whole—I say igain, could the whole people of the United States witness all this, there would remain up further work for us to perform. If the people of Massachusetts herself could have witnessed it, not a single member would be returned to Con gress from that State until he had given a most sacred pledge that he would do all in his power to recognize the equality and dignity of all the States under the Constitution, including the sacred and inalienable right of every State under the Constitution to representation in both ed gentleman who preceded me [Gen. Dix] has said all I would losire to say much better than I could say it. I cudorse, and take great pleasure in endorsing, all that he has said, sentence by sentence, word by word. Fellow-citizens, unfortunately it may be, the whole people of the United States are not here to witness what is now transpiring; therefore the greater work rests upon us. From this time until the next election we should be untiring in our exertions to see to it that the next Congress, if this shall ontinue to refuse this sacred right of representation to equal States-that the next Congress shall recognize that right. When that is done, he Union is restored; and when the Union is estored we shall be prepared, in my judgment, o enter upon a higher and nobler career among the nations of the earth than has ever yet been occupied by any government upon which the sun of heaven has ever shone. We shall stand in the vanguard of liberty and civilization. We shall lead the way and light our example for all the other nations of the earth. Gentlemen, without detaining you any longer, should regard his exclusion from such seat as an unjust and unreasonable infringement of the rights of the Democracy of said District, and are ready to stand by him in the maintenance of his rights and the rights of his constituents; that we endorse most cordially the purity and patriotism of his motives and his fitness in every way to his seat in said Convention; yet, for the sake of harmony and good feeling in the same and in the great ends for which it is called, we consent to his withdrawal from a seat in the Convention if in his judgment his duty to his constituents duty and right, to the almost manimous opinion and desire of friends whose wisdom and soundshall be no pretext from any quarter for any controverted question or disturbing element it follow from its deliberations and action, I here-by withdraw from the Ohio Democratic Delegation, and decline taking my seat in the Convention. I am profoundly conscious that the sancity and rearnitude of the interests involved in the present political canvass in the United States are too immense not to demand a secrificanot every personal consideration in a struggle upon th Issue of which depends, as I most solemnly be lieve, the present peace and ultimately the existence of a free republican government on this outinent. Trusting that your deliberations may be harmonious, your proceedings full of wisdom and patriotism, and its results, crowned with a glorions and saving triumph in the end to the great cause in which every sympathy of my heart is enlisted, I am, very respectfully, your obedient ervant, C. L. VALLANDIGHAM.

On motion of Senator Cowan, of Pennsylvania, a Committee of two from each State and Territory was appointed to prepare resolutions and

FOREADING MATTER ON EVERY PAGE.

The fire insurance companies of the United States are about to try the worth, in their case, of a combination. They design to unite upon an increased rate of insurance, and of course if this coalition be effected, the public will be helpless. How much good this bodes to the community the reflecting may imagine. Were all the grocers to unite, all the butchers, all the bakers, all competition would cease between them, and the pub-lie would be victimized to suit the conscience or eapidity of the combination. The only remedy such a case has been found to be, in England, to the public, and soon break up the extortionate embination. In like manner, when the combined insurance companies shall have increased their rates to an unreasonable degree, the only remedy will be the opening of aniscriptions for new companies better disposed to accommodate the interests of the great public.

Insurance companies cannot be expected to insure witness a fair profit; and years ago their tock paid immisome dividends. It does not pay so well at the present moment; but as they not reduce their rates when doing a flourish temporary affliction. An insurance company namaged, seldom fails to make money; but many of them are so greedy to make it rapidly that they take unwise risks and risks too heaviin one direction. Losses casne, and they blame cheap insurance (which thereases business as the cause, instead of their own imprudence.

Burns was said to have acquired a large fortune by his speculations in the oil region several years ago, but proved a very heavy defaulter to parties in New York and Rochester, he had grancial relations, and absconded several months ago. The letter giving information of his death, was written by a friend who was with him at the time, to his Attorney in New York, and by him forwarded to his family in Albion.

-----THE renomination of the Hon. Thomas Willinus for Congress in the 23d District, is a merited tribute to eminent ability and stannch devotion to principle. The action, moreover, of the Conference by which the renomination was made, is highly satisfactory in another respect. There was no divided opinion on the grave issues involved in the present canvass, and no hesitancy in declaring the strongest sentiments. The nom-Inec is the father of A. R. Williams, Esq., of this

As I had great deal intercourse with reachers, and witnessed very much of hypocrisy a them all, in my brother as well as in all others so I learned early in my youth to contemn the preacher's office, and to look upon the preachers as being the greatest imposters in the world. My father's wish was that I should become a preacher; but to that I could in no wise consent especially as that would not satisfy my ambition

I was wonderfully taken up by all what-ever I witnessed there, seeing that it was the first time in my life I saw a camp-meeting and atthe marvellous things which I experienced in the couple of days I attended that camp-meeting, in consequence of my humble, fervent and sinere prayers. There I saw Jesus Christ for the irst time, while I was in terrible agonies and fervent prayers. There, to my after astonishment, the Lord showed to me very plainly that all the performances in that great camp-meeting, which I admired so much, were nothing better han mockeries and jugleries in His sight. I was too much taken up by the ontward show of picty and devotion to believe those divine revela-tions. To my grief and astonishment the Lord did not allow me to there there but a couple of lays. There He called me to preach and sent ne out to traveling and presching the Gospel. After having spent thus two months, I returned again to New York. When I left New York, Bennick also left and went to a farmer to work for his living; but when I returned, Bennick also

The Buffalo Horse Fair-Immense Con-course of People-The Races, &c.

There is intense excitement here to-day in cor sequence of the grand opening day of the Horse Fair. It is drawing large concourses of people from all parts of the country, and It seems to ab sorb the attention of all. Our hotels are full to overflowing, and hundreds are obliged to seek their citizen friends, who have kindly taken them the spirits of those interested, and they predicted wet weather during the gala week, but the dark gether to appose our proceedings were quickly scattered, when the sun appeared, which allayed our fears, and we are to enjoy a fine day. It was often removed during the morning that the Fair would be postponed in consequence of the inclemency of the weather, but such did not | We visited the track and found it in good order, being heavy, we will thank fate it was no worse. Thousands of people were con gregating to witness the race-structures were erceted for the accommodation of the visitorswagons and vehicles going in every direction to obtain a good view. Soon all the preliminaries were arranged and the horses entered the track. After being walked and trotted around for a while a start was fluidly made, and they went to
